Kyle Carr and Christine Guest

June 16-17: Foundations of Digital Editing (COMM111)
June 18-19: Foundations of Motion Graphics (COMM112)
June 22-23: DVD Authoring (COMM145)

Designed for Communications Concurrent Enrollment instructors and those interested in applying

Take one, two, or all three workshops!

These workshops are done in a "Train the Trainer" style and assume that participants have basic computer/media arts background. After completing the workshops and aligning your high school courses with TC3's, you may apply to teach the above courses for concurrent enrollment credit (you will still need to have your credentials and course outline reviewed by the COMM department chair for concurrent enrollment approval).*

Register by June 11 on MyLearningPlan. Go to www.tstboces.org, scroll down and click on the "MyLearningPlan" link. Scroll to find the workshop descriptions and click on "Enroll" button. This procedure helps your district track your professional development.

*If you are in a county represented by a different community college, you will need to get that college's permission in order to apply for concurrent enrollment through TC3.
